

Geoffrey Tabin, MD

Global visionary on quest to cure the blind

WEDNESDAY, DEC 9

11:00am - 12:00pm

Li Ka Shing Center, Rm LK101

Stanford School of Medicine

Geoffrey Tabin, MD, is a professor of ophthalmology and visual sciences and co-director of the outreach division at the John A. Moran Eye Center at the University of Utah. He specializes in cornea cataract and refractive surgery. He is also the co-founder of the Himalayan Cataract Project and has been named the “unsung hero” by the Dalai Lama for his international work and dedication to eradicate unnecessary world blindness and sustain ophthalmic health care in the developing world. Tabin is also the fourth person to climb the “7 summits” - the highest peaks of all seven continents.
